

The Rhode Island Blues

September 7 – 8, 2008

We seek blue sharks off Rhode Island. Tropical storm Hanna comes ashore on Sep. 7th and interferes with our plans.

© 2008 – Robert Cantrell
robcantrell@aol.com

It is September 8th. Tropical storm Hanna cost us a day, so we have just one for the blue sharks. We head out on Charlie © 2008 – Robert Cantrell roblcantrell@aol.com Donilon's boat the Snappa.

We drop the shark cage into the water thirty miles off shore. The water is about 200 feet deep. We are the only boat on the water.

© 2008 – Robert Cantrell
roblcantrell@aol.com

Shark watch on the Snappa.

© 2008 – Robert Cantrell
robcantrell@aol.com

Blue shark in the water.

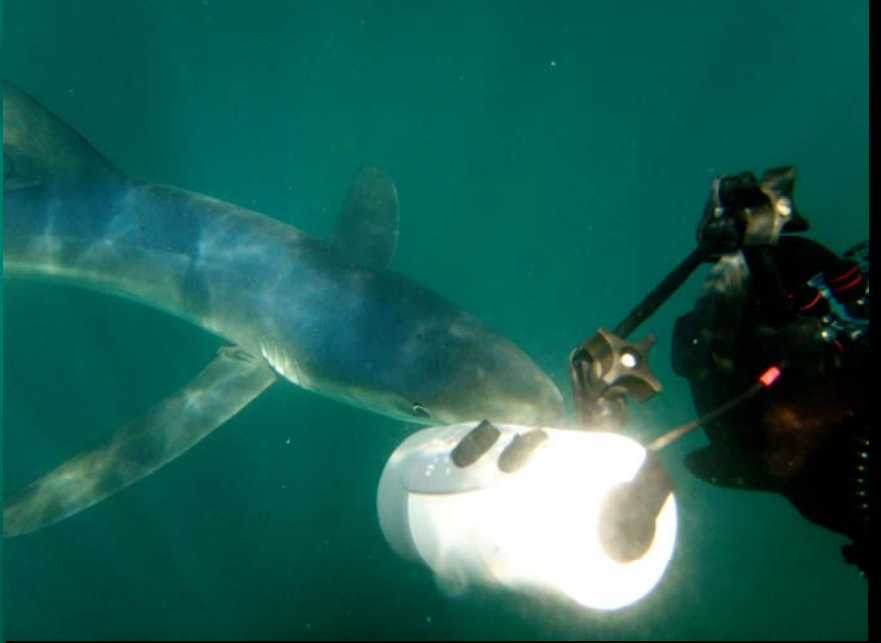

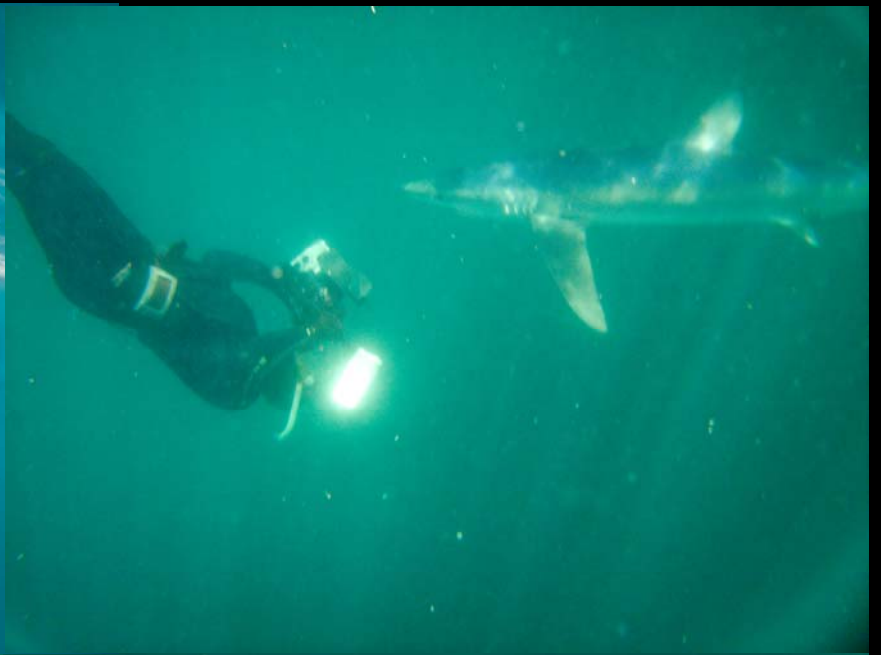

A blue shark approaches.

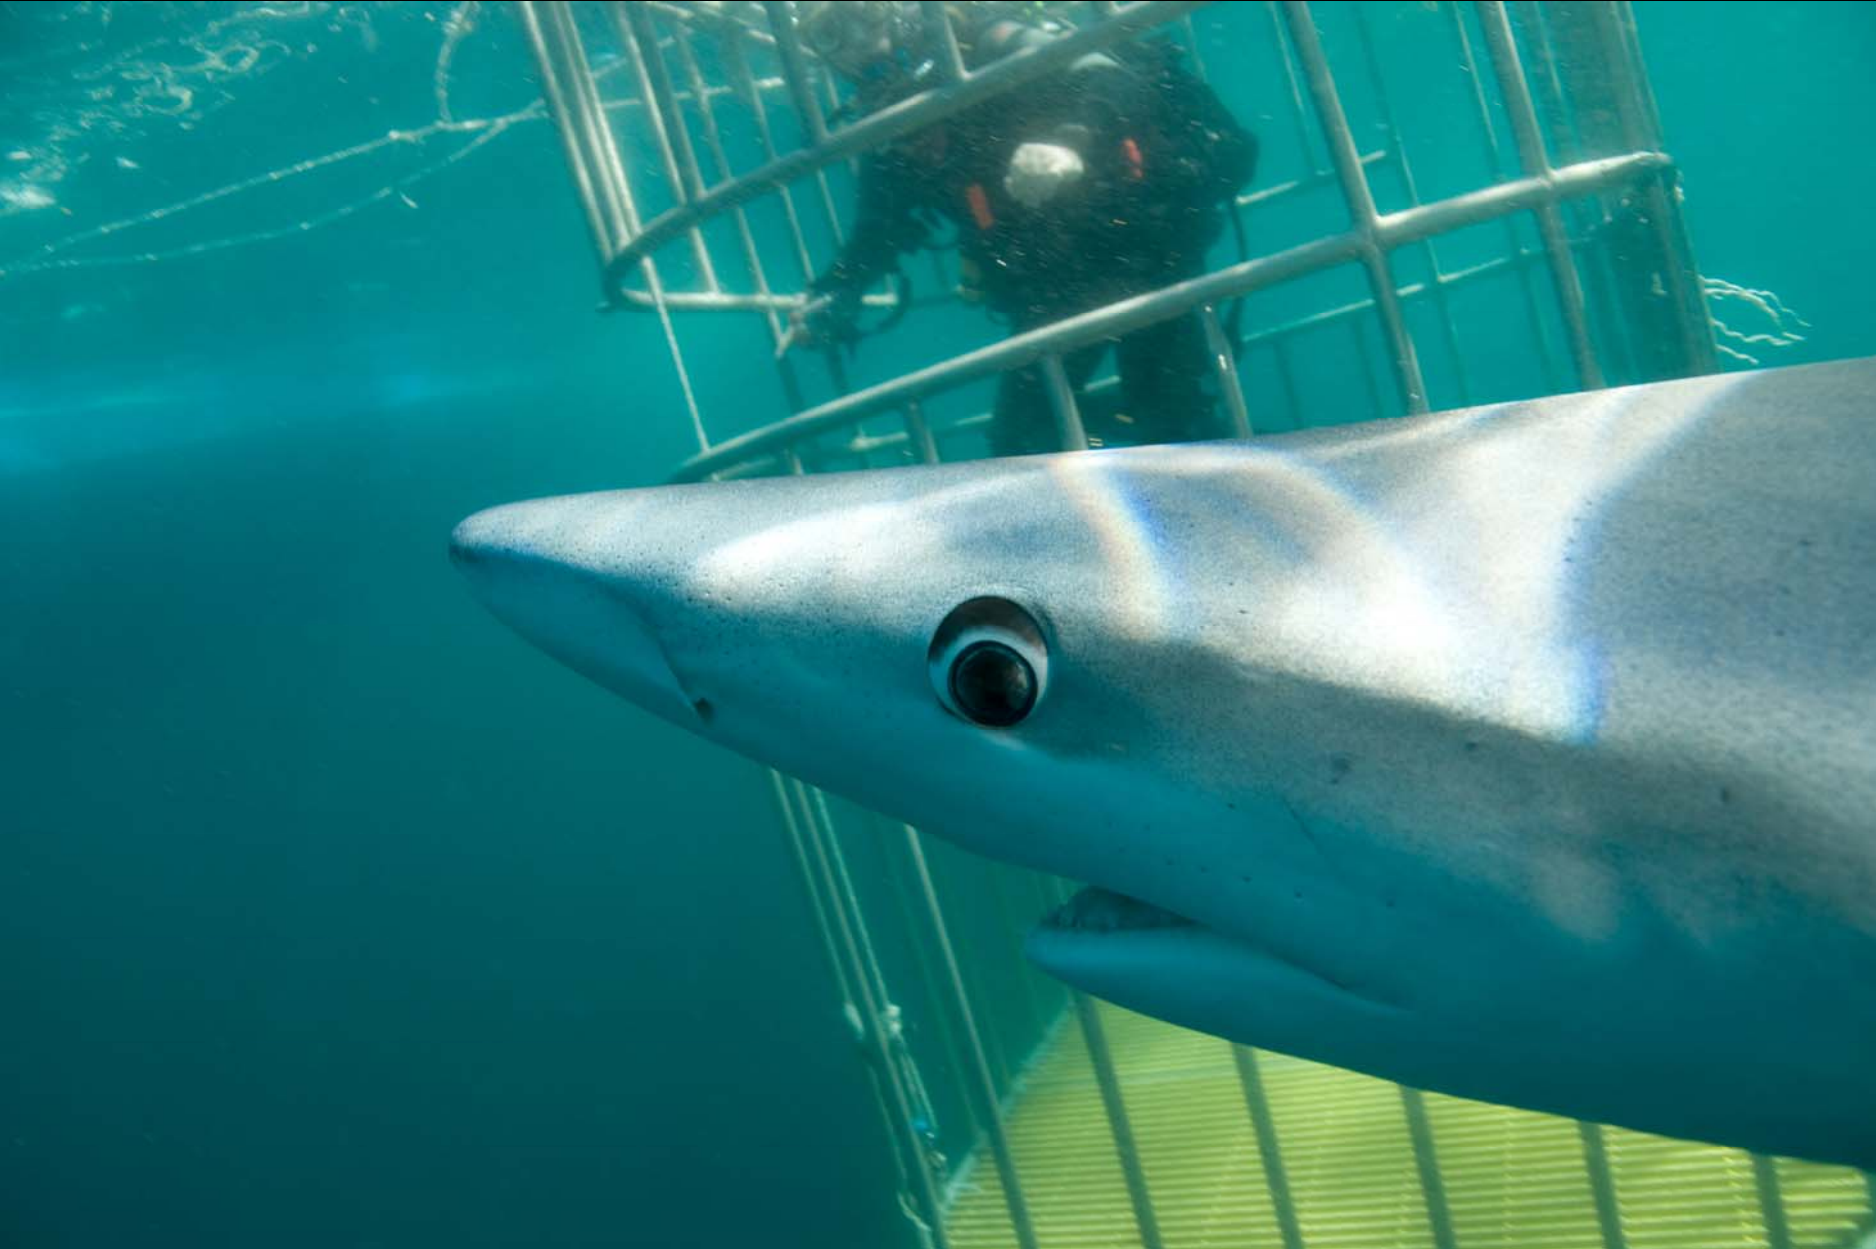

Blue shark checks out Robert.

© 2008 – Julia Goswick
roblcantrell@aol.com

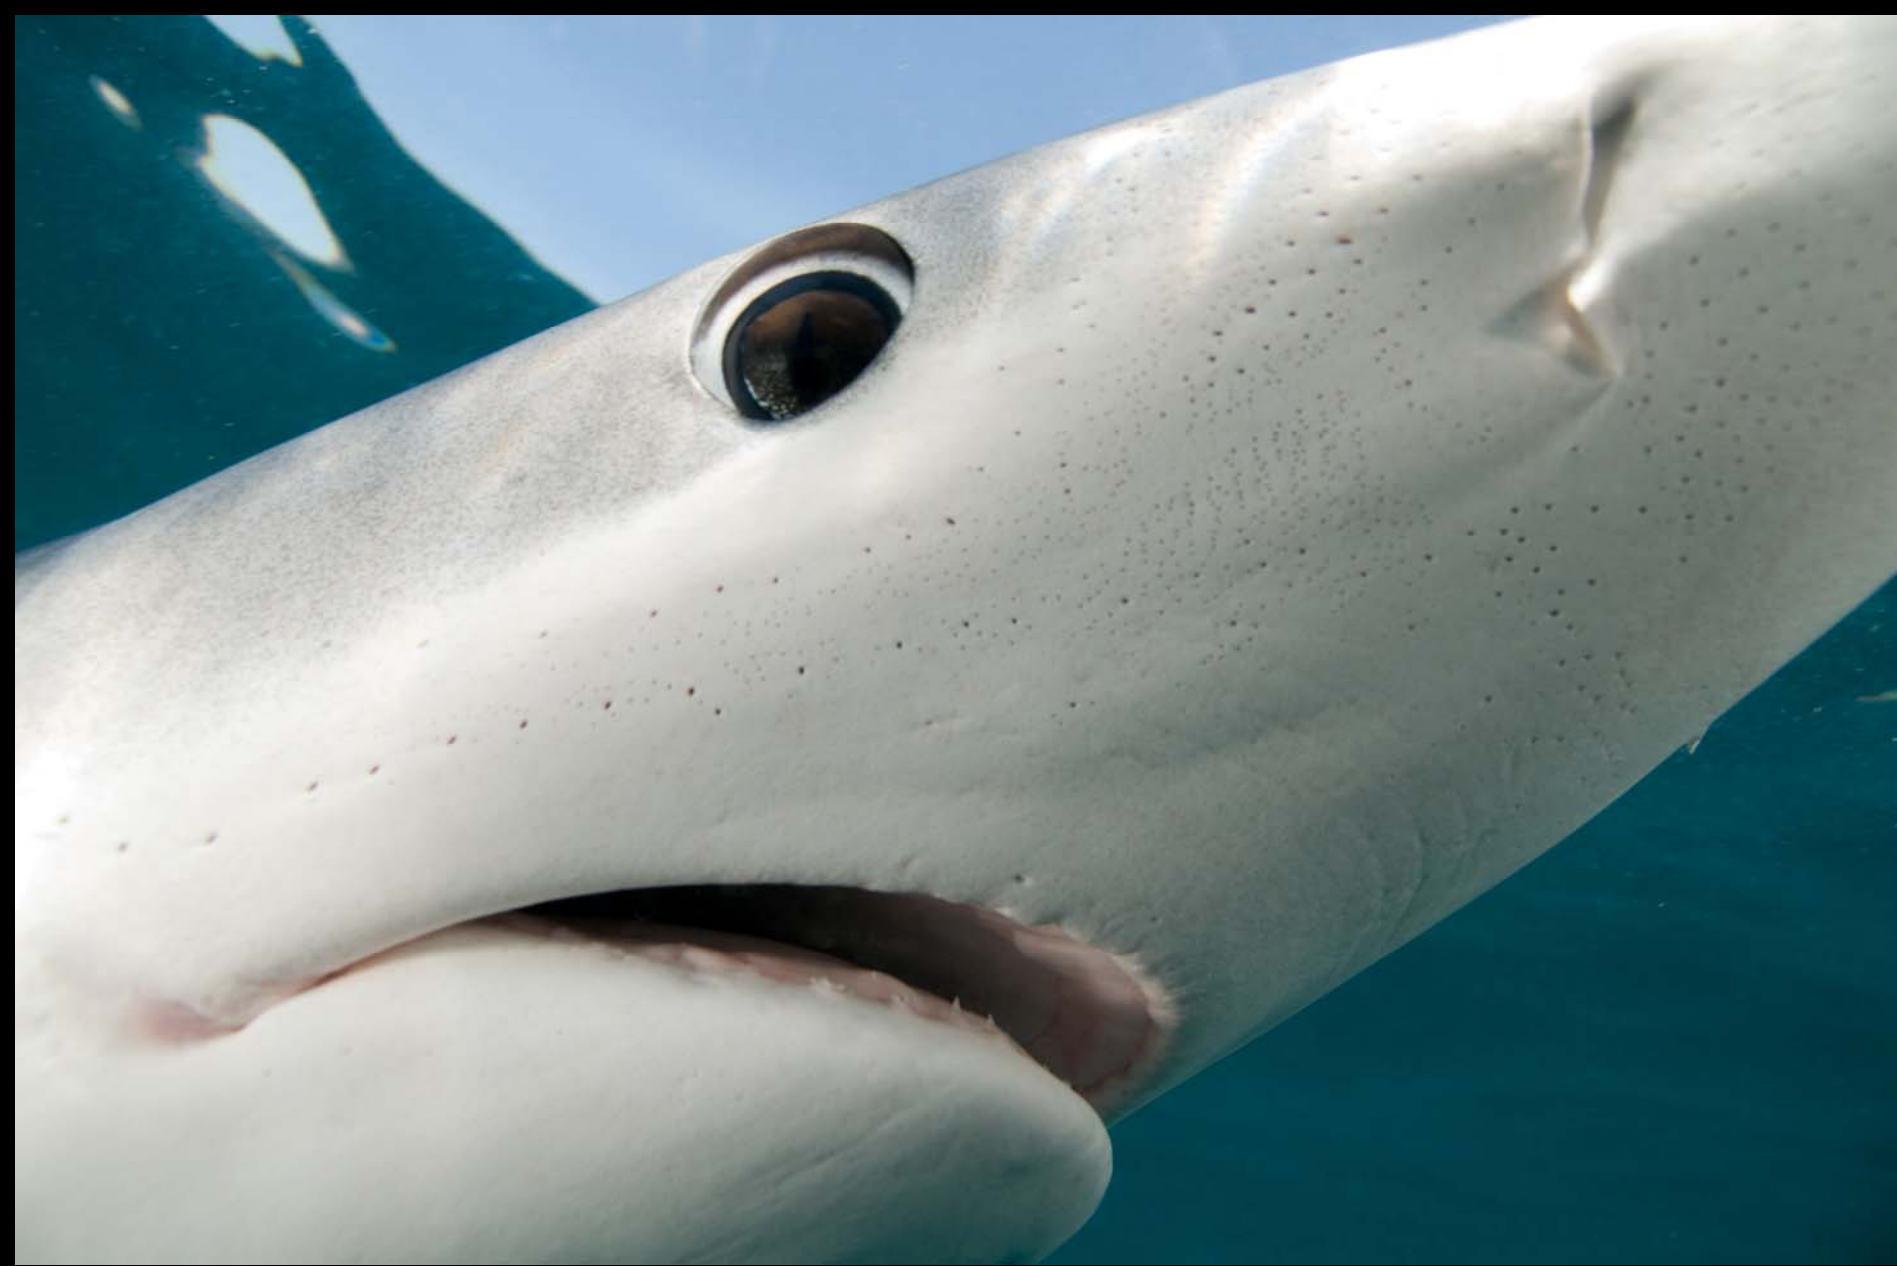

Shark shoot.

The end.

